

ATP Conference 2008

the wonder of psychology: inspiring teachers and learners

The 26th Annual Conference of the Association for the Teaching of Psychology will be held this year at the University of Lincoln between

Thursday 10th July and Saturday 12th July, 2008

The conference is for teachers of psychology and will offer updating sessions on psychology, presentations and workshops on teaching and learning, and opportunities to share good practice.

THEMES: The conference will have three themes,

Teaching and Learning: developing and sharing good practice

Curriculum development: dealing with changes in the curriculum

E-Learning: embedding technology in teaching

Bookings

Bookings are being handled by the conference office of the British Psychological Society. Places on the conference can be booked online, by phone or by post.

The fee for the full conference* is £240.00 with a discount of £20.00 for early booking before 30th April. Accommodation for extra nights before and after the conference is available at £42.00 per night (B&B).

The fee for non-residential attendance is £150.00, and single day rates are also available. There are concessions for members of the Lincoln Consortium. Full details available at the conference website.

includes ensuite BB accommodation Thursday 10 and Friday 11 July, lunch on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, evening meals on Thursday and Friday, refreshments, entrance to all workshops, lectures and exhibitions, and access to online materials before and after the conference*

Contact details for bookings

website: www.bps.org.uk/atp2008

e-mail: conferences@bps.org.uk

tel: +44 (0) 116 252 9555.

BPS Conferences, The British Psychological Society, St Andrews House, 48 Princess Road East, Leicester LE1 7DR

VENUE: Why Lincoln?

Lincoln is a new-build city centre university on the banks of the River Witham. It has great facilities for conferences. The Psychology Department has organised its own conference for local teachers of psychology in previous and years and for 2008 will combine this with the ATP National Conference. We look forward to working with Lincoln University and enjoying the history of the town.

Accessibility

When booking please inform us of any dietary, access, hearing or mobility requirements you may have. More details on the website